County Agent Gives Pointers on Tomato Growing and Cultivation

To prune, or not to prune. That is the question facing all tomato growers, says Miss Peters, county Home demonstration agent. There are several advantages to pruning and training. Cultivation is easier, tomatoes are larger and more uniform in size, they ripen more evenly—less likely to sun blister, are not so susceptible to soft rot, and are more easily harvested.

Plants are pruned first when they begin to throw out suckers in the axils of the leaves; that is, where the leaves join the stems. These suckers and branches are pinched out, pruning to one, two or three stemmed plants. When more than one stem is desired (a two stemmed plant is usually more desirable in the home garden) the larger lower branches are selected and all other branches removed.

"Topping" of tomato plants, that is, the removal of the growing tips of the main stems after three or four clusters of fruit have formed, is not to be recommended, says R. O. Monomstich, Extension Horticulturist. The recommended practice that will mature fruit just as early and extend the productive life of the plant is to pinch out the flower clusters as they form above the four clusters that are being left to produce tomatoes.

If the plants are to be supported by individual stakes, the posts should be five feet long and driven 10 inches into the ground. When the plants begin to bend over, they should be tied to the post with a soft twine or cloth. The twine is tied tightly around the post, but very loosely around the plant. As the plant grows it is tied at higher places. There are four successive ties about 1 foot apart are required to support the plant.

USE MORE COTTON.

MAY 22-27 is National Cotton Week. The citizens of Mississippi should liberally patronize Mississippi merchants; not only during National Cotton Week, but every week in the year, for Mississippi is principally a cotton state, and the cotton surplus is getting larger and larger each year, thus holding the price of cotton to a low level. The American cotton market as far as the outside world is concerned is getting smaller and smaller, according to Business Week Magazine. This means that the citizens of the United States are going to have to use more and more cotton, and find more and more uses for cotton. In its April issue of the 15, Business Week Magazine editorially says: "Before the War, the United States exported abroad more cotton than all the rest of the world produced. In the decade from 1919 through 1928, it contributed 44 per cent of all the cotton used in foreign countries. In the decade from 1929 through 1938 it supplied 33 per cent of the foreign market. And for the five years ending August 1, 1939, our share will be barely 25 per cent."

PEACE IS WITHIN.

THE peace and happiness of the average citizen does not depend upon the amount of money possessed, the success of any organization or the outcome of any great struggle abroad.

The contentment that makes for human happiness is within the reach of every individual who is able to face life with a philosophy that solves personal problems. The acceptance of religious tenets often provide the answer, whether these religious beliefs are adopted as an individual or a member of some religious organization.

The capacity of the individual for self-control is the key to happiness and contentment. It is a product that you cannot buy, or receive as a gift. It is within reach of all but is obtained by very few.

ENROLL 2,278 IN CCC.

MISSISSIPPI successfully completed the enrollment of 2,278 replacements in the Civilian Conservation Corps, on April the fifth, according to George Sadka, Superior of the CCC for the State Department of Public Welfare. These enrollees were sent to 17 acceptance points, some of which were CCC camps for final selection and enrollments in the corps. This makes a total of over 45,000 men and boys of Mississippi that have been selected for the CCC since the beginning of the program in April, 1933. The next period of enrollment will be in July of this year, and Mr. Sadka states that anyone interested may contact the county welfare agent of the State Department of Public Welfare in whose county they have legal residence, and place their applications on file.

AN ITEM: NO NEWS.

LAST week the Yankee Clipper, 74-passenger flying boat, completed a round-trip trans Atlantic flight to Europe, bringing back to the United States twenty-one men—the largest number ever to span the ocean in a heavier-than-air machine.

The completion of the journey occasioned comparatively small headlines. Its success was taken for granted and, consequently, there was no "news" in its return.

Just another illustration that people are becoming air-minded and that the age of the air is at hand.

GAS TAX COLLECTIONS.

DURING the month of March, 1939, gasoline tax collections were 62.9 per cent higher than in the corresponding month of 1936, according to Mr. Howard Dyer, commissioner of the Motor Vehicle Commission, which commission is charged with the collection of said tax. The receipts for March, 1939, were $809,648 as compared to $490,993 for 1936, an increase of $319,055.00.

TO AWARD TAG CONTRACT.

THE State License Tag Commission will open bids at 10 o'clock A. M., April 25th, in the office of the Auditor of Public Accounts at the new capitol in Jackson for the purpose of awarding the contract for furnishing the State with Automobile license plates to be used during the year 1940. The State Tag Commission is composed of Carl Craig, State Auditor; E. D. Kenna, Director of the Mississippi Highway Commission and Newton James, State Treasurer.

THREE NEW INDUSTRIES.

TUPELO, Mississippi, has secured three new industries in the last thirty days according to a recent announcement from that thriving East Mississippi city. The industries are: A dress shirt factory to employ around 100 persons; a cold storage plant to handle 90,000 pounds of meat, also eggs, poultry and vegetables; and a bottling plant.

Postmaster General James A. Farley has been invited to attend the annual convention of Mississippi postmasters which will be held at Jackson on May 18th and 19th, according to J. H. Brent, postmaster at McComb. More than 700 Mississippi postmasters are expected to attend the meeting.

FARMERS ARE LEARNING.

THE farmers of Hancock county are now wondering what prices they will receive for their crops this year, but as always, they are planting and hoping for big returns.

The agricultural industry differs from practically every business enterprise in that farmers grow all that they can, without knowing what the price of their product may be. Individually, they figure they will gain by excess production, regardless of price. They have not yet learned that controlled output means more money for all concerned.

No manufacturer, engaged in building something that requires months to complete, would throw all his resources into unlimited production without an idea as to demand ahead and probable price. It should be noted, also, that farmers are beginning to understand this policy and are gradually acquiring the experience that is necessary to guide them in the future.

It is true that farmers have a great advantage over manufacturers, if they utilize it. Every farmer can consume much of the products that he raises. While it not feasible to live entirely at home, it is practical to produce much of the food and feed that the farmer's organization requires. When this is done the farmer is able to be more independent of the price of any particular crop.

The farmers have been urged to live at home, as far as possible, for two reasons. In the first place, living, at home saves the money that would be used to buy what a farmer can produce. In the second place, it avoids irregularity in family life due to the fluctuating annual incomes that depend upon adherence to a one-crop policy.

There are, undoubtedly, some farmers who can specialize in certain crops with resulting profit. The great majority, however, cannot expect to do so over a long period of years with substantial returns unless the one crop is planned to produce surplus cash, rather than what one might call "living money." Use the products of your own land for living and you can have abundant cash for special expenses from cash-money crops.

THE RAILS MAKE RECORDS.

THE speed of passenger trains has been developed in the United States to a far greater degree than in any other country. That announcement doesn't come from spokesmen for our American roads—but from the English trade journal the Railway Gazette.

The review discloses that the American railroads operate 48,247 miles of daily runs scheduled at 60 miles or more per hour. This is more than half of the entire world's mile-a-minute mileage and is an increase of almost 11,000 miles over 1937. And in 1932, seven short runs ago, American mile-a-minute runs totaled only 2,022 miles.

In the freight field, as every farmer and shipper knows, our railroads have made similar progress. Speeds have been increased, and car shortages practically eliminated. The result is a tremendous increase in the shipment of perishables across the country to far away markets—which, in turn, means more money in the pockets of producers.

We'd expect a prosperous industry to go ahead like this. The amazing part of the railroads' achievement is that they have succeeded in doing so much during a period when their income has been almost at the vanishing point. Even during several years when they sustained heavy deficits, they've gone on, giving traveler and shipper more and more for their money. No industry has done a finer job of serving a public whose economic life depends on rail transportation. Think what progress the country could have if Congress actually passed laws giving the lines a fair regulatory break, and a chance to earn a "living wage!" It's a safe bet that then the industry would do things that would mean even their tremendous achievements of the past seem small by comparison.

TIRED OF WARS?

WE don't know how our readers feel about it but we get rather tired of reading so much war news and we dislike writing editorials about the world situation, but nonetheless, the world today is in a war era and the people wonder when it will begin.

Naturally, there is no reason for the people of Great Britain to fight the people of Germany, just because one has what is called a democratic form of government and the other has a dictator. The causes of possible fighting go deeper than the forms of government.

Until Germany seized the remnants of Czechoslovakia, there was the possibility of peace in Europe, but even Neville Chamberlain became convinced that Hitler was out to dominate Europe if not the world and that, unless England was ready to be dominated, the Hitler march would have to be stopped.

The situation in Europe is like an expanding force striking a stone wall. Either the barricade will yield or it will stand firm. The expanding force will exert utmost pressure and win, or subside. Afterwards there will be quiet for a while.

EDUCATION EXPANDING.

FOR many years the people of the United States have been spending vast sums of money on education with the idea that the task will be completed some day and the cost reduced.

This, it appears is a delusion. The cost of education, like the cost of highways, continues to mount because of demands and requirements of people expand. The day when parents were satisfied with the schooling of the "three R's" has passed and with its going the cost of modern education has moved upward.

It might be observed, in passing, that the great bulk of money expended for educational purposes is being used for children in urban areas. This would be all right except for the fact that the great bulk of children is probably in the rural areas. Therefore, if we want to catch the coming generation, the opportunities for educational instruction must be widened to include the children, wherever they may be.

There are Americans who believe that the United States could whip the world without any preparation for the battle.

With The Press

HEALTH OF AMERICA BEST IN WORLD.

(Daily Times Leader)

THE United States, Dr. Haven Emerson believes, will establish for 1938 an all-time low record for death rates from all causes.

Dr. Emerson is public health authority with Columbia University. He deliberately concludes:

"We are now in fact the possessors of better general health are less afflicted with diseases known to be preventable are more secure in the survival and growth of our offspring to maturity, and have an average expectancy of life greater than that of any population group in the history of man."

There are lots of things wrong with the United States. But there are also some things right with it. This magnificent health achievement is one of them.

Is it luck, accident? We don't think it is. With less regimentation than many other countries with proper records, we believe the United States has achieved this record simply because as a democratic republic it is first concerned with the welfare of its individual citizens. Not its citizens in the mass, or its citizens as individuals entitled to life and all the health and joy they can find in it.

AN OBJECT LESSON.

(McComb Daily Enterprise)

YESTERDAY afternoon a man on the streets of McComb took a piece of paper from his pocket, read it, rolled it into a wad, and then carried it in his hand until he passed a waste can a block or so away, and then discarded it.

He did not think he was being noticed and when asked why he had carried the paper such a distance replied, "Why should I clutter up the streets with paper? The least any man can do is to try to keep his city clean."

Hollywood Notes..

DUE to the war scare in Europe, Warners has decided to film "The Knight and the Lady" in Hollywood, rather than in London, as was originally planned. The story is adapted from Maxwell Anderson's "Elizabeth, the Queen," and has as the leads Errol Flynn and Bette Davis. Miss de Havilland who was to have had a part, by the way, has been borrowed for the feminine lead in "Raffles," in which she will co-star with David Niven.

Ann Sheridan and Richard Carlson are to have the leads in "Winter Carnival," a story of an American born duchess who has divorced her husband. The scenes are laid at a Canadian winter sports meet.

Phyllis Bottome's novel, "This Mortal Storm," a story of Nazi Germany, has been purchased by Metro and will be adapted to the screen.

Robert Sherwood's comedy drama, "The Road to Rome," has been bought by Metro and will have the leads, Clark Gable and Myrna Loy.

A series of travelogue pictures made last summer in England, France, Austria and Germany are being made available, free of charge to schools, churches and clubs by the Students International Travel Association.

Bing Crosby's second picture for Paramount after "The Star Maker," will be "The Road to Mandalay." It will bear no resemblance to the Kipling poem, but is the story of a boy belonging to a shipping family who signs up as a sailor on a Pacific liner. Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour will appear in the picture.

Barbara Stanwyck will have the lead in a Rita Weiman story, "Headline News," story of two daughters whose fathers are exposed as embezzlers.

Laurel and Hardy will be reunited in comedy and will make their first new picture called "L'Aviateurs," in July.

Andrea Leeds who was withdrawn from the Jascha Heifetz picture, recently, will play opposite Joel McCrea. The title which started off as "This Restless Age" has been changed again and is now "Music School."

The fourteen-year-old daughter of Leslie Howard says she has no ambition.

ONE INCOME THAT'S INCREASED MIGHTILY SINCE 1932!

*Data from Beer Tax Division; wholesale license fees included.

BEER helps even those who do not drink it! To the tune of a million dollars a day nation-wide, beer tax revenue reaches back into every community, to help pay for relief, for public works, for education... and to lift a burden that would otherwise rest directly on the taxpayers.

To this, add a million new jobs made by beer. And a 100 million dollar farm market.

How can we keep these benefits... for you and for us? Brewers of America realize this depends on keeping beer retailing as wholesome as beer itself. They want to help public officials in every possible way. They cannot enforce laws. But they can—and will—cooperate!

Delayed Farming.

Excessive rains and continued cold weather have seriously delayed farming. Little planting has been done and much land is still to be prepared. It is fortunate that little cotton had been planted as it doubtless would have had to be planted over.

There is a great need on many farms for disk and section harrows, which are essential in the preparation of a finely pulverized seedland. All too often seed are planted on poorly prepared land, handicapping the little plants from the very start and making cultivation more difficult.

CHECK TIRES. BATTERIES TO SAVE TROUBLE

Takes Little Time and Will Make Money for Automobile Owner, Good-Year Dealer Explains.

Failing to take time to have necessary small services performed while stopping for gasoline often costs the automobile owner real money, in the opinion of E. J. Arceneaux, of Arceneaux Super Service, local dealer for The Good-Year Tire & Rubber Co.

"Every motorist realizes he should have these services performed regularly, but few indeed are the car owners who observe this precaution," declared Mr. Arceneaux.

"Outstanding among the services that are overlooked by the motorist in his haste to get going after he has purchased gasoline or other merchandise is that of having his tires checked. Tires should be checked at least once a week to see that they are inflated at the recommended pressure, as running a tire with too much pressure is just as bad as running it under-inflated. In either case wear is far more rapid, and the car owner is deprived of many miles of use that would be his if he just took the time to have the service station attendant check tires frequently. As is readily apparent, it costs money in the long run to overlook proper inflation.

"Another service frequently neglected is the battery check, and this, too, is a costly omission. Regular check of the battery is highly important, particularly during the cold months, and may be responsible for saving the motorist considerable delay and inconvenience by warning him if the battery has about outlived its usefulness.

"A little extra time when the car owner comes into our place, or any other service station, to have tires and battery checked, will save money," he concluded.

Navy News.

After a short visit at Norfolk, Virginia, the main body of the United States Fleet departed for their normal bases on the West Coast in compliance with a surprise order issued by the Navy Department last week. The Fleet had been scheduled to visit the New York World's Fair and to depart for the West Coast sometime in May. The Fleet units remaining in the Atlantic were: the Aircraft carrier Ranger, two squadrons of Patrol planes, three of the older battleships, and several cruisers and destroyers making a combined force of about 50 warcraft.

Visitors Inspect Warcraft. During the recent visit of the cruisers USS New Orleans and USS Chicago to New Orleans, more than fifty thousand visitors boarded the two vessels during their ten day stay in port. The crews of the two ships were royally entertained by the citizens of New Orleans and vicinity.

Navy Briefs. The first large calibre guns made of American steel were those manufactured for the old United States battleships Indiana, Massachusetts, and Oregon. A present day capital ship has more power than Dewey's entire fleet at Manila. The term "flag officer" includes all officers of the line of the Navy above the rank of captain. New battleships to be built for the U. S. Navy may be designed to be steered with two rudders and their rudders may be installed in two decks instead of one. There are sixty three Army air-dromes and twenty-six Naval Air stations in the United States.

"JESSE JAMES" IS ANNOUNCED AS EPIC OF LAWLESS ERA, GREATEST OF ZANUCK HITS.

The most romantic outlaw in the history of America, the desperado whose daring colored a whole era and endowed it with the title of the "Lawless Era"—the man who invented bank holdups and introduced train robberies—has been brought to the screen at last in Darryl F. Zanuck's production, "Jesse James," the 20th Century-Fox Technicolor epic, starring Tyrone Power, Henry Fonda, Nancy Kelly and Randolph Scott, which opens at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and remains Monday and Tuesday.

One of the most difficult problems facing producer Darryl F. Zanuck, who had already shown his good judgment by casting Tyrone Power in the title role, was to ascertain a fairly accurate picture of what Jesse James was really like, and then to present that picture with as much authenticity as possible, taking care neither to whitewash nor blacken the character of the man.

Two years of research into the life and times of this fascinating character before the actual production of the film was begun.

Henry King, the distinguished director of such Zanuck hits as "Lloyds of London," "In Old Chicago," and "Alexander's Rag Time Band," was entrusted with the megaphone, and made a trip into the Ozark region to select actual locales. The little town of Pineville, Missouri, was finally chosen and it was here that a vast company, including, besides Power, Fonda, Miss Kelly and Scott, Henry Hull, Slim Summerville, J. Edward Bromberg, Brian Donlevy, John Carradine, Donald Meek, John Russell and Jane Darwell travelled to shoot this gripping photoplay.

"Jesse James" opens with the introduction of the "Iron Horse," in its journey through the old West, cutting ruthlessly across the farms of the simple, hardy pioneers. It shows how Jesse James and his equally notorious brother, Frank (Henry Fonda) began their career of crime as a direct result of the murder of their mother by an unscrupulous hireling of the St. Louis Midland railroad, in the person of one Barshee, played by Brian Donlevy.

The picture becomes more and more gripping and exciting as it progresses.

322 Loans On Homes Made During First Quarter of 1939.

The 23 insured savings building and loan associations of Mississippi made 322 loans on homes totaling $380,000 during the first quarter of 1939, Nugent Fallon, General Manager of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, announced. Of these loans, 115 were reported for March.

Building and purchase of residences, reconditioning of dwellings and refinancing of existing mortgages were the principal bases for these loans. Most of them were made on the "direct reduction" plan, which enables a borrower to pay easy monthly installments applied both to principal and interest. As of April 1, associations had 4,051 investing shareholders or members with total savings of $3,508,000. This was an increase of $899,000 over the figure a year ago. Such savings are protected against loss up to $5,000 per investor by the Insurance Corporation, a $118,000,000 Federal Government instrumentality.

As of April 1, these associations had assets of $4,925,000, a rise of $957,000 in a year. The figures issued by Mr. Fallon were based on reports received from the associations and B. H. Wooten, President of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Little Rock, the regional home mortgage credit reserve bank serving thrift and home-financing institutions in Mississippi.

Drive To Rid State Of Drivers Under Influence of Liquor on Roads

Major T. B. Birdsong, Jr., Commissioner of Public Safety, wishes to appeal to the public concerning the driving of a vehicle while under the influence of intoxication liquor and to warn the drinking driver about the seriousness of this violation.

Article 49 of Senate Bill 132, commonly known as "The Rules of the Road," states that it is unlawful for any person who is under the influence of intoxicating liquor to drive any vehicle within the state. That every person convicted of violating this section shall be punished by imprisonment of not less than 10 days nor more than 1 year, or by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1000, or by both fine and imprisonment. And, furthermore, "the Commission shall revoke the operator's or chauffeur's license of any person convicted under any provision of this section."

The Commissioner is calling to the attention of the motoring public that the law provides for mandatory revocation of drivers license upon conviction and that there is no further recourse, yet people call upon him daily pleading that the loss of their license will mean the loss of their jobs. He suggests that the time to think about this matter is while a person has his license and before drinking as it is better to remain at home to drink or to hire a driver if you must travel after becoming intoxicated.

The Highway Patrol is carrying on a daily campaign to educate the public against drinking and driving. They are to continue the drive to rid the highways of those persons that insist on driving after becoming intoxicated. The earnest cooperation of the public in this serious matter is sought by the Commissioner and his patrolmen.

For Connections to Natural Gas System.

TO PROSPECTIVE CONSUMERS OF NATURAL GAS:

Our City is installing a Natural Gas System, which we expect to be completed in about sixty days. It is necessary, at this time, to determine who will subscribe for the use of this fuel, as the City must necessarily make provisions to install a meter, regulator and service pipe to serve you.

This outlay entails an expenditure of $60 per consumer, and of course we do not wish to make the provisions required unless you desire to be served. There are a certain number of connections we can budget for; accordingly, after these customers have signed for the use of gas, the cost of additional connections will have to be borne by the subscribing consumer.

We are conducting a campaign to get consumers on this Natural Gas System, owned and operated for your city and belonging to you. This is your plant, and its successful operation depends upon the sale of gas, so we ask that you subscribe for its use at this time. In that way, we shall know where to install these connections and reserve the pipe, meters and regulators for your requirements.

You are asked to make a deposit of $5 at the time of your signing the connection agreement. This deposit will be refunded to you at the rate of $0.50 per month; in ten months you will have received your entire deposit, if you own your property. If you rent or lease, it will be returned when service is no longer used. The deposit will be credited each month on the invoice for gas.

This is the only way we have to insure the use of gas for ten months. In the event you are occupying a business establishment and propose to use gas next winter only, the deposit will be accepted and considered a bona-fide subscription for gas use with a connection beginning on October 1st of the current year, with the privilege of discontinuing service May 1st of the succeeding year and paying the usual reconnection charge of $1 the following October as provided by the City Ordinance governing "Rates."

It is inconvenient, at time of signing, to pay the deposit of $5 to the solicitor, you may mail your check to the City within ten days from signing date, and the subscription will be considered valid. Failure to receive the deposit within that time will automatically remove your subscription from certification for gas usage, under the town contribution plan of reservation of pipe, meter and regulator service without charge.

It is cheaper to cook with gas under our proposed schedule of rates, than to cook with any other purchased fuel. It is clean, convenient, and is available at all times. It precludes the purchase of large quantities of fuel, as is the case with fuel oil, coal or wood. Gas is hot, fast and SAFE. It is the accepted fuel for cooking, space heating and hot water supply.

PLEASE SIGN THE SUBSCRIPTION AGREEMENT, which is a very simple form and is in use throughout the United States by all major Gas Service Companies.

GOVERNOR ISSUES PROCLAMATION FOR CHILD HEALTH DAY

Children Suffer From Improper Feeding—Nourishing and Wholesome Foods Necessary.

The following proclamation has been issued by Governor Hugh L. White declaring May the 1st as Child Health Day

To The People of Mississippi:

Whereas: the youth of today are the citizens of tomorrow and it is in them that the hope of tomorrow lies; and

Whereas: greater sacrifices are made for our children than for ourselves, and greater happiness is derived from these sacrifices than from all the triumphs that personal success may bring; and

Whereas: notable advancements have been made in the National and State program for the health and happiness of the dependent, the crippled, and the undernourished child;

Now, therefore, I, Hugh White, Governor of the State of Mississippi, do designate and proclaim the First Day of May, 1939, as Child Health Day, and do urge that all official and volunteer health agencies of the State shall unite upon that day in the observance of appropriate exercises; shall take inventory of the health and welfare needs of the children; and shall plan programs to continue and further expand the child health services of the State of Mississippi.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Mississippi to be affixed this Nineteenth Day of April, A. D. 1939.

GOVERNOR HUGH L. WHITE
Governor.
By the Governor
WALKER WOOD, Secy. of State.

With further reference to the children in Mississippi, the fact that one-half of the children suffer from improper feeding with its attendant evils, Dr. T. Paul Haney, Jr., Director of the Pike County Health Department, McComb, said in a Child Health Day conference with State Board of Health officials Saturday.

Declaring that improper feeding invites disease and reduces resistance to it, Dr. Haney said that it is the basic cause of hundreds of preventable deaths among the children in the state each year.

He attributes a large part of the undernourishment in children to ignorance and carelessness rather than poverty and calls it deplorable that youthful bodies should be handicapped for lack of food in an agricultural state like Mississippi.

Nourishing, wholesome meals may be obtained and prepared at reasonable and even small cost, Doctor Haney declared, if ample and sincere effort is devoted to the job. Recommending that the weekly budget be planned carefully, he advised that it be divided in the following parts: about one-quarter for vegetables and fruit; one-quarter for meats, fish and eggs; one-quarter for milk and cheese; one-quarter for bread and cereals, fats, sugar and other groceries.

Children need the most food when they are growing the fastest, Doctor Haney said, that is, in the first few months of life, during the third, fourth and fifth years of life, and at adolescence.

Where the food budget must be carefully considered, Dr. Haney points out that fruits and vegetables are always cheaper in season than out, that canned and dried fruits and vegetables may be substituted for fresh fruits and that higher priced meats are no more nourishing than certain less costly cuts.

Under no circumstances, he said, should the growing child ever be deprived of his quota of a quart of milk each day.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to extend our sincere appreciation to our many relatives and friends for the kindness and sympathy extended to us at the death of our beloved wife and mother, Mrs. Mary Cuevas. Also our deepest thanks for the beautiful floral offerings and messages of sympathy. Many thanks to Father Fahey and the Fahey Funeral Home, also The Sea Coast Echo.
